To Mrs. Maria (Weston) Chapman

«Utica, N. Y.» In re fairs. That at Syracuse did not succeed as well as hoped; cleared $160, and had many articles left, which Abby Kelley proposes to take to Seneca Falls for another fair. "Colorphobia" is raging with greater violence since visit of C.L.Remond and F.Douglass than ever before. If prospects look more encouraging after annual meeting in November, will send money for purchase of articles, more especially books -- "Garrison's & Pierpont's poems and your Liberty Bell".

The writer has, however, spent the addressee's money in the purchase of articles for the Anti-Slavery fair, of which he gives an account. The writer is not an Abolitionist "in the party sense of the term, "but can esteem those who are." The writer looks for reform to arise in the South.

To Miss Weston No.75

"Boston" The writer explains the misunderstanding through which he neglected to acknowledge the "polite attention of Mrs. Fifield" in sending a pamphlet sermon of the writer's ancestor, the Rev. East Apthorp. The writer wished to investigate "how the name of Weston got into the Apthorp family." A sister of the writer's father was named Frances Weston Vaughan. Inquires for the date of the addressee's grandfather's loss at sea. Wonders if the ship on which the writer's grandparents suffered wreck or capture by pirates in 1771 or 2 was commanded by Captain Weston.

A.L.S. 4p. 8 x 5 in.

Eliphas Weston "sailed on h[illegible]wn ship from Boston to Baltimore in 1785, and his vessel [illegible] never after heard from." Cf. Weston, Thomas. The Descendants of Edmund Weston of Duxbury, Boston, 1887, p.21.

To Mr. Arnot, Clerkenwell Close.

[Written from "Q.S.P." Queen Square Place ?] Encloses a letter which " a somebody" left with him with the request that it be forwarded. His secret, so far as anything he may have done, remains inviolate; indeed, wishes his first intimation had not been followed by another until he "had thought proper to revoke the injunction." Will make a search for the letters which he desires. Was disappointed at not seeing him on Wednesday; had expected him and had invited a gentleman who wished much to see him. His brother was also there. Will expect him the next Wednesday. A.L.S. 1p. 8 x 6 1/2 in.
